Game District — Team Lead

December 2023 - April 2024

During my time at Game District I've worked to improve the processes and performances of the team in both technical and management perspectives.

Improved team processes and performance by 20% through streamlining development workflows (Agile methodologies) and implementing new project management tools. Mentored developers, fostering a collaborative and efficient team environment.

Vertex Motion Studios — RT3D Manager

September 2023 - December 2023

As an RT3D Manager, my responsibilities are to oversee the development, implementation, and management of real-time 3D projects, teams, and initiatives within a company. Typically I am leading a team responsible for creating interactive and immersive experiences using cutting-edge technologies like game engines(unity and Unreal), VR/AR, or simulation tools. My role involves coordinating various aspects of the projects, ensuring quality, meeting deadlines, and aligning with the overall business objectives.

Big Immersive— Team Lead Development Department

January 2021 - September 2023

I have worked as the Head of the Unity Department. Managed everything related to projects and teams. Planned architectures of the project. Worked on Metaverse and Games integrations for all platforms including web-GL, AR, and VR from Unity.

Big Immersive — Lead Game Developer

January 2018 - December 2020

I was working as a Team Lead in this period and had all the responsibility of realistic timelines, task assigning, task management, technical support to the team, code reviews, and improvement, along with on-hand development. I've worked on platforms like VR, AR, Mobile, and Web3. References are available in Portfolio.

Unit M — Senior Game Developer

January 2015 - December 2017

In UnitM games I worked mostly on 2D kids' apps and sometimes 3D games like Endless Runner games. Princess Taylor and Paniata are the most loved games I've developed from scratch (Videos are attached in the reference link). I was responsible for completing game development to production within the given deadlines.
